WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY

Today Christians around the world are partaking of the Lord's Supper together. Not many ties have stood the strains of war's wide desolation.

However, there were in every warring country some Chirstians who steadfastly believed in the Christian graces of their fellows in enemy countries. In mending the devastated world these bridges of friendship will open the way for a real unity among the peoples of the world. So world communion of Christians today has unusual significance.

Dr. Garrott!

Welcome back Dr. Garrott, to Rohwer. We are glad to have you back, even if it is only for a week. May God be with you always and bless for all the work you done for us.
